Annual Updates in Neurosciences for Primary Care

Saturday, March 30, 2019
Radisson Blu Mall of America
Bloomington, MN

Featuring nationally and internationally recognized experts, this conference will provide essential updates for primary care practitioners managing patients with neurological conditions.

This conference is ideal for primary care physicians, physician assistants, nurses, nurse practitioners and other interested healthcare professionals

“The range of topics covered was extensive, each session was incredibly informative and had many applications in a primary care setting” - 2018 Attendee

Special Guest

Minnesota Public Radio’s Dr. Jon Hallberg
“A Primary Care Provider’s Perspective on Neurological Disorders”

Dr. Jon Hallberg is an Associate Professor in the Department of Family Medicine and Community Health at the University of Minnesota, where he is an award-winning physician and educator. Since 2003, he has been the regular medical commentator on the regional “All Things Considered” on Minnesota Public Radio, appearing over 500 times.
